Accounting graduates provide professional services as advisors to management on financial matters affecting the firm in areas of planning, forecasting, cost control, taxes and inventory control.

Career Outlook

Your associate degree in Accounting will equip you with the building blocks for a successful career in the field. Successful graduates have gone on to become school treasurers, county auditors, tax professionals, and Certified Public Accountants (CPAs).

NC State has agreements with four-year colleges and universities, to provide a smooth transition for students who want to pursue a bachelor's degree. Through university partnerships, some four-year courses are also offered on the NC State campus or online.

Graduate Testing

Graduates take the Major Field Test covering accounting, management, marketing and economics. The test is administered by Education Testing Services (ETS), the same company that oversees SAT testing. NC State graduates have scored in the top 15% of community college students taking this exam nationwide.

This program is Accredited by the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs.
