7 THINGS TO SUCCEED IN CLASS

Interact with your instructors

If you have a question, ask it. If you need help, faculty is there to help and connect you with tutoring or another student who can help you learn the concepts. One of the best ways to succeed is not to get behind on your coursework.

Make friends with your classmates

Between classes, many students have questions about reading and homework. Consider working with other students in your class as a study group.

Be an active learner

Being engaged in the classroom is a great way to excel in the classroom. Take part in the discussions, and take the time to think of other ideas and concepts that others might not have considered. That's what college is all about.

Ask for feedback

Whether you take a quiz, a test, or fill out a worksheet, ask for your results in a reasonable amount of time. Learn from your mistakes, and revisit content when necessary so you can move on to new material with confidence.

Make time to succeed

College is hard and producing good work at the college level takes time. Allow enough time to read your assignment, practice the concepts and deliver college-level work in your assignments.

Believe in yourself

You are capable of more than you can imagine. Strive to prove it every day.

Know how you learn

Students bring different learning styles to college. Some like lectures, while others are visual, or tactile learners. Knowing how you learn best will help you prepare for college – and life.
