

3357:13-18-103 Blood borne Pathogens Exposure

It is important that employees assume responsibility for personal safety. All employees may have access to particular safety information through their supervisory staff. The people who work in the workplace are most able to detect pathogen hazards. When safety concerns arise, employees are encouraged to contact their supervisor.

Effective: August 23, 2010

Expires: August 1, 2015

Review Dates: 08/23/10,