IV. Examination Policy:

Unit Exams are open one week prior to their due date. Due to the extended time to work on the exam, late exams will only be accepted due to extreme circumstances. An extension will only be granted if requested prior to the due date. Any exams submitted more than one week late will NOT BE ACCEPTED and will result in a 0 for that test..

V. Class Attendance and Homework Make-Up Policy:

Participation is mandatory. In online classes, completing assignments is tangible evidence that students are participating. You must complete at least one assignment within the first week of the course to be counted as an attending, participating student. Students who do not complete an assignment by the end of the first week of the term will be withdrawn from the course for non-attendance.

Homework is due when stated. Any late homework will result in point deductions. If an extension is needed due to extreme circumstances please inform me before the due date. An extension will only be granted if you have requested one prior to the due date. Technical malfunctions will not be accepted as an excuse for late work. Any assignment turned in more than one week late will NOT BE ACCEPTED and will result in a 0 for that assignment.

VI. Classroom Expectations:

1. Please be respectful and tolerant of all others within the class. Please keep an open mind during discussions as this course is meant to challenge and broaden your sensibilities and perceptions of the humanities. Different views and opinions are always welcome but please be sensitive to your fellow students.
2. Plagiarism of any kind will not be accepted and will result in a 0 for the assignment. Any use of AI for your discussion questions or final report will result in a 0 for the assignment.
3. Students are required to be insightful and thoughtful for all assignments by engaging with the material in an in-depth and critical manner. It is up to the student to ask questions if anything is unclear regarding an assignment, test, grade, or due date. All work is expected to be at a collegiate standard. Therefore, excessive typos and misspellings will not be tolerated and will result in a deduction of points from your assignment.
